

Titan Luggage 360 Four Diamond Edition

UPGRADE: $600

Titan Luggage is a German engineered miracle of travel. The tag price might seem steep for a suitcase but the lifetime "No Matter What" warranty, it performs flawless performance in hectic travel conditions, amazing stylish looks, nearly scratch proof polycarbonate finish, and four wheel 360 degree pivot wheels make this handle like a mini-BMW.

We reviewed the 19" 360 Four Diamond Edition International Carry on for a whirl wind trip from Europe to South America (pretty much lived out of it for a month). A few key feature set this piece of luggage aside from anything we've come in contact with before.

First was the integrated TSA compliant locking mechanism that neatly snap the zippers into place. You supply the three digit code, the TSA officials can access the contents through the special keyhole, and you look slick without fumbling with those silly mini padlocks.

Next is the 4 wheel 360 degree roller system. This was probably the single most convenient feature on the suitcase. This allows the bag to stand up straight (no weight for you to hold up) while you glide the bag like Fred Astaire across the dance floor. No struggling down the airplane aisle and allows quick weaving through slow airport crowds. Simply throw your blazer on the telescoping handle while nudging your bag through the ticket line while the masses constantly wrestle their bags around the gates.

The incredible light weight construction also means less for you to lug into the overhead. However, every time you do throw this bad boy aloft you can rest easy knowing the hard case will slip into nearly all overhead compartments due to its specifically designed measurements.

Inside the 360 Four Diamond Edition has a waterproof toiletry bag, tri-fold garment bag that clips into place, a dirty laundry bag, and plenty of clipped and zippered storage space. We had a blast running around with the Titan handily by our side.

December 17, 2008